

next page

RLC Women's Domestic Violence Court Support Scheme

Artwork by Holly Herring

Domestic Violence is a Crime

Emergency Contacts

- Domestic Violence 24 hour Service -
1800 656 463
- Police - 000
- Redfern Legal Centre -
(02) 9689 7277
- Mudgin-gal Women's Centre -
(02) 9319 2613
- Aboriginal Medical Service -
(02) 9319 5823
- Walla Mulla Family Support -
(02) 9368 1381
- Inna Nurra Women's Outreach -
(02) 9661 1955
- Dolores Single Women's Refuge -
(02) 9389 4431
- Elsie Women's Refuge
(02) 9660 1371

Office for Women
NSW Premier's Department

Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Women's
Project has been funded by the Office for Women NSW Premier's Department

Redfern Legal Centre's Women's Domestic Violence Court Support Scheme

Supports women going through the court process with domestic violence issues:

- They provide legal support
- They can provide a resource and referral
network for after court
- They provide a safe room at court

All support is available from experienced domestic violence court support workers.

REDFERN
LEGAL CENTRE

top

What is Domestic Violence?

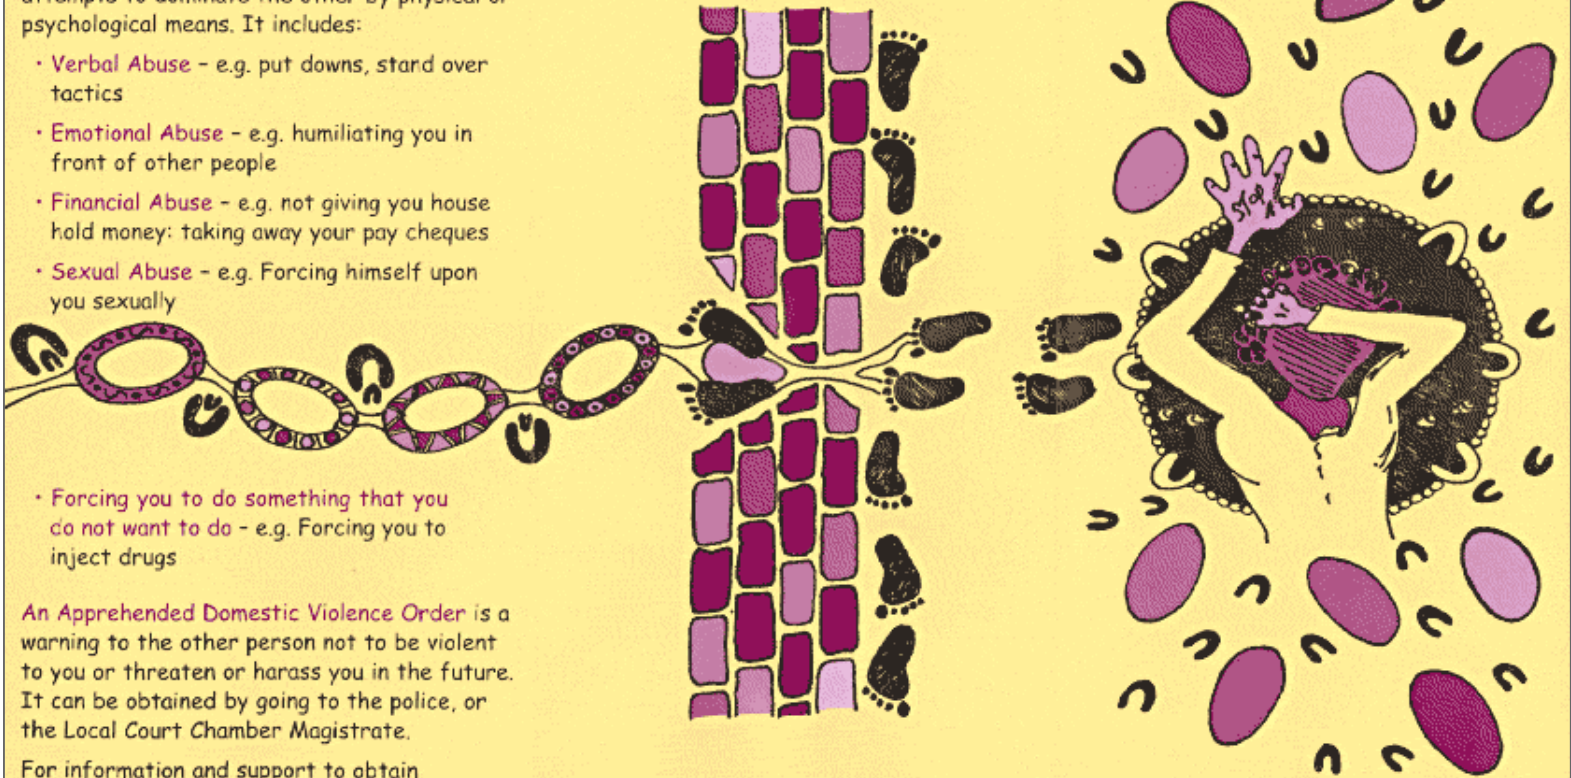

Violence in the family or domestic violence occurs when a family member or partner attempts to dominate the other by physical or psychological means. It includes:

- Verbal Abuse - e.g. put downs, stard over tactics
- Emotional Abuse - e.g. humiliating you in front of other people
- Financial Abuse - e.g. not giving you house hold money: taking away your pay cheques
- Sexual Abuse - e.g. Forcing himself upon you sexually

- Forcing you to do something that you do not want to do - e.g. Forcing you to inject drugs

An Apprehended Domestic Violence Order is a warning to the other person not to be violent to you or threaten or harass you in the future. It can be obtained by going to the police, or the Local Court Chamber Magistrate.

For information and support to obtain Apprehended Domestic Violence Orders, you can come to the Redfern Legal Centre.

top