Who We Are?

Redfern Legal Centre (RLC) is an independent, non-profit community centre dedicated to promoting social justice and human rights. We offer free legal advice, referral and casework to disadvantaged people and groups. See "Who we can advise" in the box below.

The RLC is dedicated to community legal education and advocates for the reform of inequalities in laws, the legal system, administrative practices and society as a whole.

What We Do?

RLC provides a number of services ranging from broader general legal services, to more specific services such as credit & debt and domestic violence. For a complete rundown of our services visit our 'Services' page.

We also provide volunteer opportunities as well as pro bono support.

Whom We Advise?

We can advise people or groups who live in the Botany, Leichhardt and City of Sydney municipal areas (our catchment area) who cannot afford a lawyer.
